We get SaaS brands named in AI answers.

When a buyer asks ChatGPT “what is the best CRM for a small business?”, the answer names three to six products. Most brands don’t know whether they are among them. AEOrank measures it every day across ChatGPT, Gemini and Claude, finds the sources those answers are built from, and helps the brand get into them, starting with Reddit.

WHAT WE DO

1

Track AI answers

We ask ChatGPT, Gemini and Claude your buyers’ questions every day and see where you stand.

2

Find the sources

AI answers repeat what the web says, Reddit above all. We find the threads that shape your category.

3

Get the brand into them

Useful replies, approved by you, published in those threads. Then we measure how the AI answers move.

PLATFORM FEATURES

- AI answer tracking
  Your buyers’ questions asked daily on ChatGPT (with web search), Gemini and Claude: named or not, position, and who is named instead.
- Share of voice
  Your share of AI answers against each competitor, per engine, with a trend over time.
- Cited sources
  The pages ChatGPT links to when it answers, and whether your site is one of them.
- Reddit opportunities
  The threads where buyers ask for tools in your category, ranked by traffic and freshness, rescanned automatically.
- Brand & competitor mentions
  Every Reddit mention of you and your competitors, so you see the conversations as they happen.
- AI-drafted replies
  Helpful, on-topic comments and posts written for each thread. You edit and approve every one.
- Publishing & tracking
  Post from your own account or have our network of Reddit users publish it, then follow each reply’s reach.
- Reports
  A weekly email and on-demand reports on AI visibility, Reddit activity and what changed.

HOW WE USE REDDIT

When AI assistants recommend software, they repeat what real users say in public, and Reddit threads where people ask “what should I use?” are among the sources they draw on most. A brand that is absent from those threads tends to be absent from the answer.

“Best and inexpensive CRM for small business”

Times each CRM is named in the post and its top comments

The same brands lead the AI answers: in our daily data for CRM, HubSpot and Pipedrive are named in nearly every answer. The ones missing here are missing there too.

That is the lever. A brand can’t edit ChatGPT, but it can earn a place in the conversations ChatGPT learns from, by being genuinely useful in them.

OUR PROCESS

1. Find the threads that matter
   We search Reddit for the questions buyers ask in the brand’s category and keep the busiest, most-read threads, including older ones that still rank and still feed AI answers.
2. Read before writing
   We read the whole thread: what was asked, which tools people recommend and why, and what the subreddit’s rules allow.
3. Write a reply worth upvoting on its own
   Each reply answers the question first, compares honestly, and mentions the brand only where it genuinely fits. No sales copy, no link dropping.
4. The brand approves every word
   Nothing is posted without the brand’s approval. They can edit, reject or post it themselves.
5. Published by real Reddit users
   Approved replies are published from the brand’s own account or by established Reddit users in our network, following each subreddit’s rules.
6. Measure the effect
   We track each reply on Reddit and the AI answers for the brand’s prompts, so the brand sees whether it is being named more often.

What we do

- ✓ Helpful answers to real questions
- ✓ Honest comparisons, including competitors
- ✓ Every reply approved by the brand
- ✓ Each subreddit’s rules followed

What we never do

- ✗ Bought votes or fake engagement
- ✗ Fake reviews or impersonation
- ✗ Bots or mass-posted spam
- ✗ Links dropped where they don’t help

WHO IT'S FOR

B2B SaaS companies, seed stage to mid-market, whose buyers compare tools before buying: CRM, project management, help desk, email and marketing automation, SEO, HR and recruiting, accounting and finance, website builders and similar categories.

WHO BUYS IT

The head of marketing or growth, or the founder. They usually ask two questions first: "are we named?" and "who is named instead?". The free check answers both before any sales call.

HOW TO START

1

Free check

Run the free AI visibility check at aeorank.tech: in two minutes it shows whether ChatGPT, Gemini and Claude name the brand, and who they name instead.

15-minute call

We walk through the result, the Reddit threads that shape the category, and which option fits: self-serve or done for you.

3

First month

Self-serve plans start with a 7-day free trial. Done-for-you work starts with thread selection and first drafts in week one.
