AEOrank

Know how AI recommends you. Then change it.

Your buyers now ask ChatGPT, Gemini and Claude which software to choose, and each answer names a handful of vendors. AEOrank measures, every day, whether your brand is one of them, against which competitors, and from which sources the answer is built. Then we help you earn a place in those sources.

WHAT WE DO

1

Measure

Your buyers' real questions, asked daily on ChatGPT (with web search), Gemini and Claude. Named or not, position, and who is named instead.

2

Explain

The pages each answer is built from: review sites, articles and Reddit threads, and which of them mention your competitors but not you.

3

Improve

A prioritised plan for those sources, Reddit first, executed with your team, and tracked until the answers move.

BUILT FOR ENTERPRISE TEAMS

- Every product, brand and market
  Separate tracking for each product line and brand, with questions set per country.
- Competitor benchmarking
  Your share of AI answers against each named competitor, per engine, over time.
- Cited sources
  The exact pages ChatGPT cites for your category, and whether your site is among them.
- Reddit intelligence
  The threads where buyers compare vendors in your category, and every mention of you and your competitors.
- Your team in control
  Unlimited team members, and nothing published without your approval.
- Reporting for leadership
  Weekly email updates and a monthly report your marketing team can share upward.

HOW WE USE REDDIT

When AI assistants recommend software, they repeat what real users say in public, and Reddit threads where people ask “what should I use?” are among the sources they draw on most. A brand that is absent from those threads tends to be absent from the answer.

“Best and inexpensive CRM for small business”

Times each CRM is named in the post and its top comments

The same brands lead the AI answers: in our daily data for CRM, HubSpot and Pipedrive are named in nearly every answer. The ones missing here are missing there too.

That is the lever. A brand can’t edit ChatGPT, but it can earn a place in the conversations ChatGPT learns from, by being genuinely useful in them.

OUR PROCESS

1. Find the threads that matter
   We search Reddit for the questions buyers ask in the brand’s category and keep the busiest, most-read threads, including older ones that still rank and still feed AI answers.
2. Read before writing
   We read the whole thread: what was asked, which tools people recommend and why, and what the subreddit’s rules allow.
3. Write posts that read as stories, not ads
   Posts are told as stories built around real situations your buyers face, so they read naturally and start a real discussion. Replies answer the question first and mention the brand only where it genuinely fits. No sales copy, no link dropping.
4. The brand approves every word
   Nothing is posted without the brand’s approval. They can edit, reject or post it themselves.
5. Published by real Reddit users
   Approved replies are published from the brand’s own account or by established Reddit users in our network, following each subreddit’s rules.
6. Measure the effect
   We track each reply on Reddit and the AI answers for the brand’s prompts, so the brand sees whether it is being named more often.

What we do

- ✓ Story-led posts built on real buyer situations
- ✓ Helpful answers to real questions
- ✓ Honest comparisons, including competitors
- ✓ Every reply approved by the brand
- ✓ Each subreddit’s rules followed

What we never do

- ✗ Bought votes or fake engagement
- ✗ Fake reviews or impersonation
- ✗ Bots or mass-posted spam
- ✗ Links dropped where they don’t help

WHAT WE MEASURE, AND HOW

Engines covered

- ✓ ChatGPT, with web search on, as most users see it
- ✓ Gemini, Google's assistant
- ✓ Claude, Anthropic's assistant

Method

Fixed buyer questions, asked every day, answers stored in full. Brands are extracted from each answer and kept only when they literally appear in it. Cited pages come from the engine's own source links, so every number traces back to an answer you can read.

WORKING WITH US

- Public data only
  We work from AI engines' answers to your buyer questions and public web and Reddit pages. No access to your systems or customer data is needed.
- Nothing without your approval
  Every piece of content is reviewed and approved by your team before it is published.
- Readable evidence
  Every figure links back to the full AI answer and the pages it cited, so your team can check it.
- Experience in regulated categories
  Recent work for Sovos and TINCheck, in tax compliance, where accuracy matters.

HOW TO START

1

Intro call

30 minutes: your category, competitors and the questions your buyers ask. We bring a first look at where AI stands on your brand today.

2

Pilot scope

We agree the questions, competitors, markets and success measures, and send a written proposal.

3

Kickoff

Tracking starts in the first week; your first readout follows within 30 days.
